Sale of James Lick's Estate in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO Nov 17—The event to day is the sale of the Lick estate at Platt's Hall by the Trustees of the estate—the Santa Clara property being excepted. At 12 M the hall was filled with people most of them being real estate men and capitalists. H A Cobb & Maurice Dore are the auctioneers. About 600 people are present and the galleries are fast filling up. The first property offered was the well known Lick House. The Trustees of the estate occupy seats on the stage. At 10 minutes past 12 Mr Cobb opened the sale saying "It is to be the largest sale ever made in this State." He paid a glowing tribute to Mr Lick and said the presence of the Trustees and their silence was a sufficient guarantee of the titles to be purchased. He then stated the terms of the sale. Seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars was the first bid. $800,000 was the next. $850 000 the third. $900 000 the fourth and $910 000 the fifth bid. Mr Cobb said that the last bid, if the best offered, would certainly not be confirmed. $920 000 was then offered by O Livermore, and the bid accepted.

Sales of Lick estate to day at auction aggregated $1,956,925. O Livermore bought the Lick House for $920 000 but it is thought the sale will not be confirmed, as it is worth more than that amount—would sell for more at private sale. Sale of the island of Catalina was postponed for two months.

Reports from the engineers running the preliminary lines for the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad are to the effect that they find Cajon Pass the most practicable, and that route will probably be selected.

SAN DIEGO, Nov 17—Great dissatisfaction prevails in Frontera on account of the high tariff imposed on every article imported into Lower California, by the Mexican revenue officials recently located at the line near Tia Juana Cal. M A Ferrer was en route to San Rafael with a wagon load of groceries valued at $300. After examination, the custom house officers announced the duty and tax of $5 on each hundred pounds amounted to $112 which the Colonel had to pay. The outrageous tax and tariff will prove a serious hardship on the people of Frontera who have made complaints to the General Government of Mexico.

Reward Offered for a Murderer.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 17—On or about the 29th day of October, 1874, in the county of Sonoma, Mrs Sophrana Lee was brutally murdered by her husband Wm Henry Lee, Sr. Governor Booth to-day offers a reward of $500 for the arrest of said Wm Henry Lee, Sr., and his delivery to the Sheriff of Sonoma county, payable on conviction of the crime.

A Blood-curdling Narrative.

SACRAMENTO, Nov 17—On the arrival of the western-bound emigrant train this afternoon while runners were soliciting passengers Fred Eisenminger, runner for the International hotel, told Joe Hurtodoe, runner for the Western hotel to keep away from him that he did not want anything to do with him when Hurtodoe, without the slightest provocation, struck Eisenminger several times when he (Eisenminger) went away coolly. This evening on the arrival of the freight train from San Francisco, Mr Angus Martin, proprietor of the International went to the train and asked Hurtodoe why he beat Eisenminger, when Hurtodoe insulted Martin who struck Hurtodoe. Hurtodoe drew a six-shooter and shot Mr Martin between the ribs on the left side. The ball was extracted and Martin is doing well.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 17—The retail grocery department of Zion's Co-operative Mercantile Institution, of this city is closed to day and has been sold out to private individuals. The dry goods and produce retail department of this institution were sold out not long since and passed into private hands.

A CITY ALMOST ORPHANED.—A narrow escape from what would have been a real calamity to the city occurred Monday evening no less than the involving of the lives of the Mayor and the City Council. It has thus far been kept quiet and treated as a little joke. The gentlemen were inside the new 6 foot sewer, making an examination of it as a Committee of the Whole all being present we understand except Mr Hayward. Each held a lighted candle and they had progressed from the river to Second street, when suddenly the interior of the sewer was filled with steam. It produced some inconvenience, and all got out as soon as possible. The fact has since been found that the blow off pipe of the hominy mill passes under the sewer and that it happened to be the time for closing of work in the mill for the day, and the engineer not knowing they were there had started to let out the steam. But as he did so, he found some trifling obstruction in the valve and so he let down the lever until he could attend to it, and did not let out the steam until some time afterward when the Mayor and Council men were out. The deluging of the sewer with hot steam, at 100 pounds pressure, from those three big boilers would have killed any member of the party instantly and before they could have succeeded in getting out of the place. Their escape seems providential.—From the Terre Haute (Ind) Journal.

LATEST ELECTION RETURNS

NEW YORK Nov 9—Tilden's majority in the State will be at least 55,000.

The Democratic majority in Alabama is not less than 12,000. The Democrats have in the State Legislature a majority of 29.

The Democrats will have a majority of 30 in the Florida Legislature.

In Massachusetts the official count of the Congressional vote in the 4th district gives the election to Frost (Rep) by a small majority.

Official returns from all but four counties of Pennsylvania make Latta, (Dem) majority for Lieut Gov 13 015.

The election in the Fifth New Jersey Congressional District is still in doubt. One account gives Cutler (Dem) five majority. Allowing Phelps all the imperfect ballots, Phelps thinks he has one majority.

Harden (Dem) will have 35 000 majority for Governor in Missouri. The Democrats claim a majority in the State Senate of 35, and in the House of Representatives 38.

The Democrats and Independents have a majority of 22 on joint ballot in the Illinois Legislature.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov 9—Returns, official and reported, give Monroe (Conservative) for State Treasurer, 7,159 majority. The Republicans still claim the election of Dubuclet by a small majority.

TALLAHASSEE Nov 9—The latest returns show that Purman (Republican) for Congress, in the First District, is elected by from 500 to 700 majority. It will require the official vote to decide the result in the Second District although it is believed that Walls (Republican) is elected. The Senate is a tie. The Republicans claims the Legislature by a majority of three on joint ballot.

WASHINGTON, Nov 9—Notice has already been received here of the proposed contest by Democratic candidates in three districts where Republicans were elected by a small majority. These three are Platt of Virginia Hayes of Alabama and Florence of Philadelphia. The claim in Hayes' district is that of intimidation by United States forces.

PRESCOTT, Arizona Nov. 9—The election returns are about all in, and show that H S Stevens is elected Delegate to Congress by about 250 majority.

THE ELECTION IN NEVADA

THE PRESENT ASPECT OF THE POLITICAL FIELD

The following are the latest figures with respect to the recent election. Bradley (Dem) for Governor will have about 2 000 majority. Adams (Dem) for Lieutenant Governor, 800 majority. Woodburn (Rep), for Congress 1 000 majority. Beatty (Rep) long term for Judge of the Supreme Court 1 000 majority. Earl (Rep) short term for Judge of the Supreme Court 500 majority. Bicknell (Rep) for Clerk of the Supreme Court 1 000 majority. Minor (Rep), for Secretary of State 1,000 majority. Hobart (Rep) for Controller, 4 000 majority. Schooling (Dem) for Treasurer 1 000 majority. Teals (Rep) for Attorney General 300 majority. Whitehill (Rep), for Mineralogist, 1,200 majority. Day (Rep) for Surveyor General 2 500 majority. As between Kelly (Rep) and Wills (Dem), for Superintendent of Public Instruction, the contest is close, with the chances slightly in favor of Kelly. The same is true as between Powning (Rep) and Hill (Dem) for State Printer, the chances being in favor of Hill. Of the foregoing the Independents endorsed Bradley (Dem), for Governor, Minor (Rep), for Secretary of State; Schooling (Dem) for Treasurer, Hobart (Rep) for Controller; Day (Rep) for Surveyor-General and Hill (Dem), for State Printer.

A FRIGHTFUL PLUNGE

(From the Leavenworth Times)

From a gentleman who came from the other side of the river, yesterday evening, we learn the following particulars of a very extraordinary accident which happened at Leavenworth bridge over the Missouri river yesterday evening at about 8 o clock.

Two men mounted on Mexican ponies, were crossing from the Kansas side to Missouri. Their names are Mason and Albertson and they live near Waterloo Black Hawk county Ia. They had been out in Southwestern Kansas trading in cattle and were on their way home. When about half way across the channel span of the bridge, one of the ponies became frightened at a piece of white paper a few steps in front of him and in attempting to turn round to run from it, he backed against the guard rail and got one of his hind feet through between the railing and the bridge this threw the animal down, and in his struggles to regain his footing he got his other hind leg through. The men did all in their power to save him and the pony struggled as for life, but every motion he made only hurried him to his fate, and in less time than it takes to tell it he was gone plunging from the floor of the great bridge down more than 80 feet into the turbulent river beneath. The operation was performed so suddenly that the men were bewildered—it was not more than a minute from the time the animal took fright till they saw him plunge into the river. They stood motionless, watching the place where he went down, and expecting every moment to see his dead body float away. But the pony had no idea of giving it up so. He came to the surface in a few moments, some 30 feet below where he went down and, after giving a vigorous snort and turning around once or twice, he seemed to take in the whole situation, and struck out bravely for the Missouri shore, effecting a landing about one hundred and fifty yards below the bridge.

The ponies were not saddled but instead had blankets fastened on with girths to which stirrups were attached, and the animal that went overboard came out with all his rigging intact. The men went on across to the Missouri side, and as soon as they got down the grade, the one that was mounted rode down through the woods, caught the other pony, and brought him up to the road. Except a few bruises which he got in his struggles to get up, the animal did not seem to be in any wise the worse for his big dive. The owner, after a few congratulatory exclamations resumed his seat, and the quartette moved on toward Beverly.

AN OLD CLAIM REVIVED

A special of Nov 3, from Dubuque Iowa to the Chicago Tribune says:

Mr Rhomberg, on whom a demand has been made by the Internal Revenue officers for $750 000 taxes alleged to be due the Government for spirits distilled by him during the years 1865 1866 and 1867, says that this claim, once abandoned by the Government after it had been beaten in several suits is revived against him, because of his refusal to be blackmailed by a person in his employ as bookkeeper at the time his distillery was in operation. Another allegation of his is that his refusal to support Granger the Republican candidate for Congress in this district is one of the motives of the Government officers in renewing and reviving this old claim. He appears to be very indifferent. The Government will make nothing of it, but it will give him a great deal of annoyance and injustice to his business, as well as some other business with which he is actively interested—naturally so—the Iowa Pacific Railroad. Rhomberg's attorneys are preparing the papers for the defense he means to make, but there appears no way to prevent a seizure of his property if he does not comply with the demand made on him. This seizure will take place on Monday next unless in the meantime the Government changes its works or Rhomberg pays $750 000, which he is not likely to do.

SOME ANNOUNCEMENTS

From the N Y Herald Nov 4.

We are not premature in announcing that Mayor Havemeyer will retire from public life on the 1st of January and resume agricultural pursuits and the study of the important question whether Shakespeare or Bacon wrote Shakespeare's plays.

We are authorized to announce that General Butler will enter upon the active pursuit of his profession at the close of the present Congress.

We feel authorized in announcing that General Grant will not be a candidate for a third term.

A BAPTIST VOTER.—At our primary election one of our sturdy sons of the mountains came into town to exercise his right as a free sovereign of a free State and cast his vote for the man of his choice. He approached the polls and handed in his ticket. "What's the name?" asked one of the judges. "Johnson" was the reply. "Yes, but what is your other name?" The mountaineer became indignant and declared that he had but one name, evidently thinking the official took him for a repeater. "Yes but what is your Christian name?" said the judge. "My Christian name," replied the old backwoodsman, "why, if you want to know that, why I am a Baptist." And so the man and vote were registered "John son the Baptist."—Tuscumbia Chronicle.

WM CULLEN BRYANT ON A THIRD TERM.—The President of the United States seems desirous to leave the Republican party no alternative but suicide or his renomination—to destroy itself or to be destroyed. This is a great sacrifice to make but, if necessary it will not be too great for the lesson it will teach. It will give President Grant the unenviable distinction of being the first and the last of our Chief Magistrates who has presumed to look upon a third term to lust after it.—N Y Post.

A New Jersey swimmer recently astonished the natives of Skibbereen on the coast of the Emerald Isle, by jumping overboard from a transatlantic steamship in the middle of a gale and reaching land after a seven hours' swim. But they might have told him the story of their countryman who offered to swim from Quebec, with an anchor as ballast, against the champion in that locality, and was prevented only from doing so by the other man backing out.

R GUY McCLELLAN ON THE "MISSION"

Mr R Guy McClellan left San Francisco too soon. If he had remained there to witness the arrest of ministers for preaching on the streets he would have enjoyed the event sufficiently to compensate for all the hours of brain travail it must have cost him to evolve the theories he has been of late advocating. R Guy has grown considerably since his brief residence in Oregon as the Salem people will be ready to admit on reading from a letter of his to the Boston Herald the following succinct statement of his idea of the "Mission of the Republican party":

"Absolute equality before the law and political equality to every citizen regardless of race color, sex or other condition except conviction of crime, the election of the President of the United States by the direct vote of the people with all the interposition of the so called Electoral College, the election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people without the jobbery of State legislators who in the present form of election, usurp the rights of the people, corrupting the fountains of national and State legislation and deprive the States of competent and honest legislators; the equal taxation of all property—court-houses, Christian churches and the Joss houses of the heathen—as well as the mansion and the cottage home; the disestablishment of ecclesiastical corporations; the holding of the public domain for actual settlers only at 25 cents per acre; the unification of North America; universal penny postage; the abolition of the grand jury—examinations on charges of crime to be no longer ex parte; compulsory education, regardless of age or sex until all can read and write; free banking with gold and silver as a standard; the hanging of national State county and city officials who steal the public moneys; the building of more schools and less armament of war; the admission of woman upon absolute equality with man into all the institutions and professions in the nation—educational scientific and professional; the prohibition of the manufacture, sale and importation of intoxicating liquors; the placing in public institutions of industry and [illegible] all malformed deformed and unsightly human beings whose alms seeking and presence in public [illegible] the nation disfigure the mould of nature and [illegible] society; the placing upon public farms of [illegible] dimensions at hard labor all cheats [illegible] assumed fortune tellers expounders of sulphurous and other unearthly places of either pleasure or torment dealers in mysteries signs wonders and prophesies by which they intimidate and despoil the unsuspecting of happiness and property; the receiving of any salary payment gift or token of reward for any pretended services explanations or expounding of any book, lost messages wonders dreams or revelations relating to or referring to a future state of rewards and punishments, to subject the offender to indictment fine and imprisonment for obtaining money under false pretenses; increased [illegible] for the protection of home industry—encouragement and promotion of the finer branches of mechanic art; the prohibition of child labor in factories, mines and other places; the extinction of the Indian tribal character—his endowment with citizenship protecting him by and making him amenable to our laws; further fostering schools of science, mining and agriculture; the absolute freedom of the public schools from every form of sectarian and denominational creed book sign or act of religious tenet—the Christian Jew and Pagan to fare alike—no one to impose his upon another nor exercise his own in the schools; a national law to protect dumb animals from the cruelties of man; conviction of fraud corruption or embezzlement of any employe or public officer of nation, State county or city to disfranchise and disqualify from again holding any office of trust and emolument; laws so framed that the resignation of offending office holders shall not exculpate them from indictment impeachment, conviction and punishment; the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States to be engrafted into the books used in the common schools and their study made a specialty; the Fourth of July and Emancipation Day to be the only legal holidays; construction of the Darien Canal and the establishment of the [illegible] line as the southern boundary of the Republic of the United States of America; the recognition of the independence of the Cuban patriots battling against Spanish superstition and slavery. When the foregoing are incorporated into the national laws and faithfully executed the mission of Republicanism and of the Republican party in their active aggression against evil may have ended, not before."

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV 18 1874

THE EASTERN PRESS ON THE RESULT OF THE ELECTIONS

It may be interesting to our readers to see what the leading Eastern papers say about the election especially the comments of the great Republican journals

The New York Times first in standing and influence shall speak first That journal of the morning after the election says

The result of the elections yesterday in this and other Eastern States will not be a surprise to anybody except perhaps to a few persons at Washington and it certainly will not surprise any of our readers who have been kept tolerably well informed as to the causes which inevitably tended to produce the present overthrow of the Republican party All that could be done honorably to avert this defeat has been done by us, but since the last Presidential election many of the party leaders have been deaf alike to advice and remonstrance They have apparently believed that the people would quietly submit to anything and everything and that the party which they represented was indistructible Nothing short of the events which we record this morning could have opened their eyes to the truth If a newspaper warned them in a friendly but firm spirit against the policy of blundering which they were pursuing it was treated with a mixture of the insolence and arrogance which they exhibited toward all opposition The immediate friends of the Administration possessed the [illegible] of an "organ" at Washington and filled it with disgusting slanders and with besotted arguments in favor of Gen Grant for a third term' It will be the lot of the President to discover in common with many great men who have gone before him that foolish flatterers and venal newspapers cannot turn aside the current of public opinion The truths which he and his immediate supporters refused to hear from the lips of friends they must now listen to to-day from the people at the polls

The great and signal defeats of yesterday virtually began last year The panic did much to injure the Republican party, but the effects of that disaster might have been greatly lessened had a wise course been adopted by Congress in relation to the finances All through last winter we begged Republican Congressmen to do something, and to do it quickly and we pointed out the certain consequences of their mistakes and delays In return for performing that unpleasant duty, we were simply told that we were traitors' to the Republican party and that we should be instantly stamped out of existence The mismanagement of the Treasury, the Sanborn frauds and the general series of blunders in nearly all the public departments, were in the meantime causing incalculable mischief The first two nominations for Chief Justice were shocking blunders and disgusted the whole people The Administration was making enemies and losing friends every day The party was handed over to the Platts and Butlers And just when the disappointment and irritation of the people became most marked the paper at Washington, which has come to be known as a mere speaking tube of the White House, was set to work crying out for Gen Grant for a third term.' What could any sane man anticipate from such astounding folly except the overwhelming defeats of yesterday? In this State a Republican majority of 55 000 has been turned into a Republican defeat of 42 000, a change of 97 000 votes The gentlemen who have had the Republican party in charge during the past two years will be obliged to admit to-day that they have nearly strangled it

The Republic the new Administration organ in New York, offers no explanation of the causes that have led to this result but contents itself with a general statement that the next Congress will be Democratic, but the Republicans will remain in the majority in the Senate until March 4th, 1877, at least, "when another new class of Senators will come in with the President to be elected in November, 1876"

The St Paul Press, one of the leading Republican journals of the Northwest takes a very cheerful view of the defeat, saying

We regard the overwhelming victory so unexpectedly achieved by the Democratic party throughout the country, in the recent State and Congressional elections, as the most fortunate circumstance which could have befallen the Republican party at this particular juncture, and as a happy augury for its success at the next Presidential election

If the Republican party had succeeded in holding its own in the present campaign, or in maintaining its ascendancy in Congress by a reduced majority, its chance of electing the next President would have been very slim indeed

For nearly fourteen years past it has maintained an uninterrupted control of Congress and borne the undivided responsibility for all the legislation and all the measures and policies of the Government No party ever held sway in Congress and directed the policy of the Government for so long a period unbroken by any popular revulsion That the Republican party in spite of all the fluctuations of popular caprice and the restless desire for change which forms so powerful a factor in these popular oscillations, through good report and evil report, through all the fearful perils which have assailed the country, through gloomy days of despondency and disaster and adversity as well as through the sunshine of triumph and prosperity should have managed to continue so long and so uninterruptedly in control of all departments of the Government is strong testimony to its wonderful hold on [illegible] If the sceptre of legislative control now passes temporarily from its grasp, it is from no want of confidence in the Republican party When so frivolous a piece of puerility as the third term [illegible] was the key [illegible] of the [illegible] condemnation against it, we need go no farther for proof that the Republican party has done nothing to deserve popular condemnation The vote against it was not a vote of want of confidence, but the expression of the restless human desire for a change, and which has been growing every year since the war, which has been counteracted by the stronger popular aversion to the Democratic party, and the dread of restoring its immoral, reactionary and pestilent regime.

And forgetting, apparently, that the Senate is still Republican, the Press, with such heroic statesmanship as might emanate from the courageous Governor of Oregon, proceeds

But the change is an extremely fortunate circumstance for the Republican party because it relieves the Republican party of any responsibility for the legislation of Congress at a time when that responsibility had become fearfully embarrassing and throws the burden of that responsibility for the next two years upon the Democratic party

From the felicitations of the Press we pass to the New York Tribune whose style of Republicanism is not quite so pure It opens with a seventy-two pounder

The verdict of the country against Grantism is delivered There were only two great questions before the people at this election One was whether the Administration deserves the public confidence and the other was whether it ought to be perpetuated They have both been answered in the negative, so loudly that even the President must hear the verdict

And again

Some of the Administration candidates were defeated through their direct participation in [illegible] Others suffered for their share in the [illegible] of the salary theft But a still greater number have been defeated simply because of a general impression that the party in power is more or less tainted by the corruptions which have been partly brought to light and that a vote against the whole ticket would be a good sort of protest against the regular management of it In many cases this has been a rash and illogical conclusion Sometimes the defeated Republican was a better man than his successful opponent But these incidents are inevitable in all political revolutions, The party in power must be responsible for all that goes wrong

Then turning its gun upon the triumphant Democracy, it delivers this one into their camp,

The Democratic leaders will make a [illegible] overwhelm the successes in the fall elections as due to the record the practice or the professions of their party. A woeful mistake from a partisan point of view as if we may trust history it would lead them into such recklessness and excesses as would destroy public confidence and prove fatal to their hopes for the future woeful for the country, in [illegible] such as it would go far to prove the futility, of all movements for political reform "It has happened heretofore so invariably as to become almost a proverb, that the Democratic party has been ruined by partial successes It has shown no capacity for self restraint or moderation Engrossed in the pettiness of dividing the spoils or yielding to the passion for revenge over the griefs and hatreds which the years of its fierce vain struggle have engendered, it has not undertaken in any broad sense to administer government to grasp or even to look out upon the future in a manly fashion and with a clear, honest vision

The New York Herald, seeing the result through Democratic glasses of great magnifying power says

General Grant who led the Republican party into power two years ago, with the largest majority perhaps ever given to a President may feel this morning as he reads the returns of the November elections, that he has been like the Prodigal Son until has squandered a precious political inheritance Whatever the causes the result is decisive New York, which has been anchored so firmly to the Republican party now swings out in pronounced and irretrievable revolt Even the splendid popularity of General Dix could not save the administration

This election is not merely a victory but a revolution The United States pronounces in favor of conservative purposes We are weary of war and its bloody instructions. The practical lessons to be learned cannot fail to be of the very gravest importance The canvass closes the political career of General Grant We can understand that the time will always come in the history of administrations when the people become restless and impatient, and crave a change We had indications of this even in the time of Washington, who was severely critic[illegible] before his retirement for what was regarded as the corruption of the party in power But Grant has invited the severest censure not merely by what he has done but by what he has failed to do He has permitted the Presidential office to drift away from what was intended by the founders of the Government The Presidency is no longer the constitutional head of a representative Republic, but the absolute chief of a dominant party The Cabinet is no longer composed of statesmen of repute selected because of administrative fitness, but of staff officers, taken because they pleased the Presidential fancy

The defeat of Butler gives a poetic sequel to the Democratic triumph, and is the one isolated event which will give the greatest satisfaction to the American people It closes the career of the ablest most persistent and most daring of the leaders of the Republican party—of the one man who represented in his own person the animosities the mistakes and the audacities of Republicanism in its hour of arrogant triumph

The Boston Advertiser the greatest Republican paper of New England, says

Part of the falling off and not a small part, was directly owing to the causes for which the Administration is responsible Outside of all considerations of the popularity or fitness of candidates, Republicans would not vote in a way that could be construed as an indorsement of the means by which the Administration has made its power felt in Massachusetts They have had a severe experience of what it costs to be loyal to party During the last twelve months they have seen the power of the organization passing into the control of men for whom the people have no respect They have seen the important Federal offices in this State manipulated for private ends in violation of the rules of the Civil Service and in studied contempt of their advice and judgment They have seen the party machinery taken possession of by the recipients of Executive favor and used to fortify themselves in their positions and to intimidate all candidates for office who would not affiliate with them

We should think that Col Cornelius would pray to be saved from his friends In its zeal to show that in one unimportant particular our first information in regard to the facts of his smothering the people's railway bill, was incorrect, the Bulletin proves that we were correct in the most essential particular And then, as if desirous of doing the Colonel all the damage that the inadverdently' offered testimony is capable of doing, the Bulletin rehashes it again Between the purpose of the OREGONIAN to expose every known misfeasance by public officers, and the Bulletin's blundering attempts at defense, whereby it only makes matters worse, it is probably the Colonel's little game to keep hold on the throats of the farmers of Washington county will be pretty thoroughly ventilated

Quite a number of persons have just been indicted by a Utah Grand Jury for participation in the "Mountain Meadow Massacre" which took place a long time ago—we forget the exact date—and in which a whole train of Arkansas emigrants were murdered by the Mormon Danites We do not know whether Mr Ben Holladay still feels the same interest as formerly in this subject or not If he does, we trust he will properly appreciate our calling his attention to the fact of the indictment

We shall see now whether Mr J Gaston's ideas of journalism are the same as those of Mr Holladay's other editors. Under their [illegible] then it has been the practice of the Bulletin, when it gets the worst in any controversy as completely as it is now cornered on the Cornelius matter, to abandon the field of legitimate discussion, and fall to calling names with might and main It would be too bad for Gaston to go back on the traditions of the establishment.

William Cullen Bryant completed the eightieth year of his age on the 3d instant He is the oldest active journalist in America, and occupies a position to which few others will ever attain He is scarcely less distinguished as a journalist than as a poet, and his poetical fame is above that of any other poet that ever wrote

Snow is reported three and a half feet deep in the Blue Mountains, and eighteen inches deep on portions of the table lands of Eastern Oregon On the Coast range, toward Tillamook, there are two and a half feet

The war claims of the State of Indiana against the General Government have been finally settled The State has just received a warrant on the Treasury of the General Government for $112 207 56

Eighty seven thousand votes were cast in New York city for Tilden Democratic candidate for Governor, and only fifty seven thousand for Wickman, Democratic candidate for Mayor of the city

There is a general strike among the coal miners at Brazil Indiana The demand is for 15 cents more on the ton The employers are resolved to stand firm

The vote of Ohio at the late election was 42 000 less than the vote polled at the Presidential election in 1872.

One moral of the election—Let U S have peace —on the St Louis farm

SINGULAR INCIDENT.—The McConnelsburg Republican says A couple of Sundays ago, during the services at the Reformed Church a snow white pigeon entered the church and after describing a couple of circles in the holy sanctuary rested on the minister's head—Mr Shade He drove his strange visitor away with his hand when it calmly took a position on the Bible and serenely surveyed the congregation until its removal from the church It was a pretty and odd change of programme

THIS ASSOCIATION WAS INCORPORATED AT Portland Oregon October 9th 1874 with a Capital Stock of $100 000, on a United States gold coin basis and under the laws of the State of Oregon, for the purpose of issuing Life Endowment and Annuity Policies on such terms and at such rates as will be within the means of every citizen and retain at home the large sums annually sent East for Life Insurance which can be as safely, and to the public more advantageously invested in building up our home interests

Mutual Life Insurance in its truth is simply the agreement of any number of persons that upon the death of any one of them those left living shall each contribute a certain agreed sum, which in its total or aggregate shall be given to the family—wife, or child, relative or estate—as stipulated by the deceased, But such persons so agreeing (if any considerable number) require the services of a responsible agency for the collection and disbursement of such moneys and it is for such purpose that this Association has been organized and duly incorporated under the laws of the State

The safe and honorable management of the affairs of the Association is guaranteed by its incorporators whose names are a warranty to the public for safe custody of their trust funds

Life Policies.

In issuing these the design of the Association is as agents of the people to provide them with the advantages of a Mutual Life or Mutual Contribution system of Life Insurance at actual cost without unnecessary and in some cases unbearably heavy expense to which the public have heretofore been compelled to submit.

The originators of the beneficent plan of Mutual Life Insurance never designed that the participants should pay four times its actual cost, nor indeed any cost until the anticipated deaths had actually occurred, Common sense tells us that paying a debt when it is due is sufficient in all business transactions.

Endowments.

Payable in five ten fifteen and twenty years will be issued by the Association in its corporate capacity, giving its pledge for their true payment, as stated over the signatures of their President and Secretary That better interest on money and better results to the holders of such endowments can be obtained here than in the Eastern States or in Europe, is evident when we consider the difference between the well known three to five and six to seven per cent realized in the East, against the ten and twelve per cent interest that can be safely obtained on the Pacific Coast

Annuities.

The Association issue Life Annuities for the payment each year of agreed or specified sums, in gold coin to the holders of such Policies these will be issued over the signatures of the President and Secretary The same reasons which enable the Association to issue endowments or agreements to pay a specified sum at the end of a stated term of years and to give such endowments on better terms than can be done by any Eastern Life Insurance Company also apply in case of Annuities or a stated sum annually to be given by the Association

PACIFIC WHARF AND WAREHOUSE.—[illegible] the most useful and substantial improv[illegible] which have been made in the [illegible] for a number of years is the [illegible] and Warehouse," commenced [illegible] the present season at the foot [illegible] Early last summer a joint [illegible] organized in Portland for [illegible] structing a large and com[illegible] point along the river front [illegible] street which was intended to [illegible] ing demands for wharfage and storage [illegible] portion of the city. Messrs [illegible] Holman, T H Richardson and J [illegible] Lownsdale are prominent among the [illegible] rators and stockholders of the new co[illegible] Work was begun several months ago [illegible] been pushed forward to completion, [illegible] as the entire structure will be finish[illegible] present week. A great number of lar[illegible] were driven at the point selected, wh[illegible] old, decayed, frail wharf stood prior to [illegible] astrous fire of August, 1873. On top [illegible] piles a very strong building has been [illegible] structed two stories high, supported b[illegible] sive timbers sufficient to resist successf[illegible] combined strength of flood and storm, [illegible] support enormous weight. The dock [illegible] 190 feet, and has a storage capacity [illegible] tons. Leading down from Front stree[illegible] first story is a broad plank roadway, [illegible] a gradual incline, renders it a compar[illegible] easy matter for loaded teams to ascend [illegible] scend The second story is about on [illegible] with Front street, and is of easy access [illegible] are a number of wide doors, which, wh[illegible] casion requires, can be slid aside, an[illegible] afford ample run for any number of [illegible] In all respects the location of the new [illegible] is an eligible one, and could scarcely [illegible] been improved Along on the outside [illegible] there is depth of water at the lowest sta[illegible] feet, quite sufficient for the largest [illegible] load with perfect safety.

PATENT CAR COUPLING.—Yesterday [illegible] automatic car coupling was left on [illegible] for inspection Mr [illegible] Washington county, is the inventor [illegible] patent. By means of a [illegible] trivance the cars can be coupled [illegible] brought together To the coupling [illegible] is attached a long lever. When the [illegible] lowered the jaws of the coupling [illegible] —are distended, so that when the [illegible] proach and touch each other [illegible] tens the opening, which [illegible] down and the coupling is [illegible] as the cars are coupled the lever is [illegible] to its original position again When [illegible] sirable to uncouple the cars all that is [illegible] ry is to drop the lever, which opens [illegible] and allows the "catch" to slip out [illegible] advantage of Mr Smith's patent is [illegible] cars can be uncoupled at any moment [illegible] er the train is under full speed or not [illegible] is no necessity for any person to st[illegible] tween the cars as they approach each [illegible] order to effect the coupling, as is requ[illegible] the present old fashioned arrangeme[illegible] action is entirely automatic, and requ[illegible] an instant in its operation. In "mak[illegible] trains, switching off, etc., this patent [illegible] able, as it saves much time, and its u[illegible] be the means of avoiding many of tho[illegible] ful casualties to life and limb of w[illegible] read so often A patent was applied [illegible] June, and issued on the 25th of Augus[illegible] ing A number of railroad men of ex[illegible] have examined the patent and pronou[illegible] valuable invention. Mr J. Q. A. [illegible] Washington county, who has an in[illegible] the patent will visit the East shortly [illegible] purpose of effecting arrangements fo[illegible] of patent rights in various parts of the [illegible] We understand that one large railro[illegible] pany in the East have offered $20,00[illegible] exclusive right to manufacture and [illegible] patent

THE LECTURE.—We regret to state t[illegible] was a meager attendance last eve[illegible] Museum Hall to listen to the lecture [illegible] by Prof Syl. C Simpson, of Salem, [illegible] fore announced, Mr Simpson's sub[illegible] "Grit" No brief synopsis of the lec[illegible] give one an adequate idea of the [illegible] ful thoughts, clothed in [illegible] with which it was replete from the [illegible] the concluding sentence. To apprec[illegible] lecture a person would have to [illegible] or hear it delivered Like all of [illegible] son's efforts, it was brim-full of [illegible] bly and practically expressed, and [illegible] audience something which they [illegible] home with them and turn to practical [illegible] in the course of every day [illegible] gret is that we are unable to [illegible] ture in full, and that he did not [illegible] number of persons to address. [illegible] is well worthy of a crowded [illegible] Miss Clara Dunbar [illegible] at the [illegible] furnished the audience with severa[illegible] mental selections, performed in [illegible] On Thursday evening [illegible] deliver a lecture at the Museum [illegible] subject will be "From the W[illegible] White House" The lecture [illegible] laughable and thrilling incidents [illegible] with Col. Meek's border life, [illegible] "Mountain Hunter" will [illegible] quaint style Next Tuesday evening [illegible] O Howard will deliver a lecture on [illegible] ject of the "Battle of Gettysburg."

PROPOSED IMPROVEMENTS.—As will [illegible] served in the proceedings of the [illegible] Trustees of East Portland, published [illegible] issue of yesterday, certain well known [illegible] men of this city contemplate making [illegible] very important improvements in the [illegible] Albina which is situated just north [illegible] Millen's Addition Mr. [illegible] Bank of British Columbia, is one of t[illegible] ing spirits in this new enterprise. I[illegible] tended soon to remove all the machin[illegible] in the old Oregon Iron Works to the [illegible] Albina, and set in operation a [illegible] shop and foundry. We understand t[illegible] entire stock of the Iron Works has b[illegible] chased by the persons who [illegible] ing the improvements spoken of. [illegible] to a foundry machinery, [illegible] tion to construct a large wharf [illegible] on the bank of the river in con[illegible] the other improvements. [illegible] ations are being prepared and the [illegible] building and removing the machiner[illegible] commenced in the course of a month [illegible]

AN INSANE WOMAN.—Sheriff [illegible] Washington county, arrived in the [illegible] day having in charge an insane [illegible] named Emily Butts. This unfortunate [illegible] is aged about 54 years, and [illegible] has been subject to fits for many ye[illegible] length her case assumed such an ag[illegible] the gentleman with whose family the[illegible] was staying—Mr. Aaron Henders[illegible] cluded that it would be a prudential [illegible] to have her removed to the Asylum [illegible] she could harm no one and receive the [illegible] medical treatment her condition requir[illegible] an examination before [illegible] the poor woman was [illegible] committed to the Asylum

EAST OF THE MOUNTAINS.—Throu[illegible] courtesy of the O. S. N. [illegible] obtained the following information rel[illegible] the state of the weather east of the mo[illegible] yesterday Celilo, cloudy and cold, [illegible] stream wind blowing, thermometer 24[illegible] tilla, cool froze a little last night; the[illegible] ter 32° Walla Walla, cloudy, [illegible] snow, thermometer 26°, Wallula, [illegible] stand, thermometer 34°, with a strong [illegible] down-stream Dalles, cool, thermome[illegible] Should the present wind continue lo[illegible] whole country will be covered with [illegible] mantle, and the river filled with floati[illegible]

GRANGERS MARKET —At the meeting [illegible] stockholders of the Grangers' Marke[illegible] pany held last Monday, among other [illegible] done they increased their capital stock [illegible] 000, and elected three Directors. The [illegible] tors met Tuesday and elected the fo[illegible] officers James Imbrie President, J J [illegible] Secretary J M McIntire Superinte[illegible] and Wm Bybee, Vice President

A SUCCESSFUL HUNTER.—Mr E. D. [illegible] stos yesterday evening returned fro[illegible] days shooting and fishing excursion do[illegible] the river. The net proceeds of the e[illegible] was about fifteen dozen ducks and gee[illegible] a hundred and fifty trout Ned thinks [illegible] weather had been favorable he woul[illegible] bagged some game

PACIFIC WHARF AND WAREHOUSE —One of the most useful and substantial improvements which have been made in the city of Portland for a number of years is the "Pacific Wharf and Warehouse," comme[illegible] at the foot of Salmon st[illegible] a joint stock [illegible] was [illegible] in Portland for the pur[illegible] of con[illegible] a large and commo[illegible] wharf at a point along the river front, south of Salmon [illegible] which was intended to meet the grow[illegible] for wharfage and storage in that [illegible] of the city M[illegible] Captain Charles [illegible] M Richardson and J P O[illegible] are prominent among the incorporators and stockhold[illegible] of the new company [illegible] several months ago and has been [illegible] forward to completion or nearly [illegible] the entire structure will be finished the [illegible] A great number of large piles [illegible] driven at the point selected where an [illegible] wharf stood prior to the disastrous fire of August, 1873 On top of the [illegible] a very strong building has been con[illegible] two stories high, supported by mas[illegible] sufficient to resist successfully the strength of flood and storm, and to [illegible] weight. The dock is 12[illegible] and has a storage capacity of 4 000 [illegible] Leading down from Front street to the [illegible] is a broad plank roadway, which, by [illegible] renders it a comparatively [illegible] for loaded teams to ascend and de[illegible] The [illegible] d story is about on a level with Front st[illegible] and is of easy access There [illegible] of wide doors which when oc[illegible] can be slid aside, and thus [illegible] run for any number of teams [illegible] the location of the new wharf [illegible] one, and could scarcely have [illegible] Along on the eastern side [illegible] of water at the lowest stage of 30 [illegible] for the largest vessels to [illegible]

CAR COUPLING —Yesterday a patent [illegible] was laid on our table [illegible] Mr Harrison E Smith of [illegible] is the inventor of this [illegible] a clever mechanical con[illegible] can be coupled by being [illegible] To the coupling apparatus [illegible] a long lever When the handle is [illegible] of the coupling—so to speak [illegible] so that when the cars ap[illegible] each other the 'catch' en[illegible] which immediately closes [illegible] coupling is effected As soon [illegible] the lever is brought up [illegible] again When it is de[illegible] the cars all that is necessary is to drop the lever which opens the jaws, and allows the [illegible] to slip out One great [illegible] of Mr S[illegible]'s patent is that the [illegible] at any moment, whether [illegible] full speed or not There [illegible] for any person to stand be[illegible] each other in [illegible] as is required by the [illegible] old fashioned arrangement The [illegible] and requires but [illegible] In making up [illegible] this patent is invaluable [illegible] time, and its use would [illegible] many of those frightful [illegible] limb of which we [illegible] was applied for last June, and [illegible] of August follow[illegible] A number of [illegible] of experience have examined the [illegible] and pronounce it a [illegible] Mr G. The many friends of Mrs Major Fr[illegible] will be glad to learn that she has returned in [illegible] to her old home in [illegible]

Common Council this evening

A cutting northeaster yesterday

The cargo of the Mattie Macleay is about discharged

Ice these cold mornings has put in a modest appearance

There are now confined at the Insane Asylum 199 patients

The little propeller St Patrick came up the river yesterday

The steamer Calliope is lying idle at the foot of Yamhill street

Sweet cider is very cheap—everybody can afford it as a beverage

High old zephyrs were sighing about our editorial den yesterday

Sidewalks are considerably encumbered with the sere and yellow leaf

Although a woman's age is undeniably her own it is not often that she will own it

Cold weather has come and the proprietors of bunions are commencing to complain

If this weather continues the Young Americas will soon commence to purchase skates

The placid waters of the Wallamet were much vexed yesterday and all about a little wind

All the telegraph lines are in splendid operating condition—owing to the clear cold weather

When a woman gives herself away it can be truthfully said that she has lost her self possession

It is said that four women out of five stick the postage stamp on the left hand corner of the envelope

Prospects of a long cold winter are flattering and wise people are laying in a liberal supply of fuel

Old Mercury instead of throwing up the sponge manifests a strong inclination to go down in his boots

The new woollen ball fringe trimmings will certainly be in high vogue and velvet will also be in great demand

Irish frieze still continues in favor and if properly combined or trimmed with highly finished silks is very stylish

Modistes have already imported heavy black gros grain, with jet beads sewed on to outline diamonds and of this the cuirass will be made

At present there is a wealth of sweetness on the wharves, where the two barks just from Honolulu are discharging sugar and molasses

Everybody's nose was red and blue yesterday and it was not from the effects of strong drink either It was a nipping air, and no mistake

In the way of amusements Portland boasts of a theater, skating rink museum and two dancing schools and strange to say the people are not happy

We saw a gentleman get a terrible fall yesterday on a slippery apron He did not make use of profane language but there was force and point about his adjectives

Female postmasters are not altogether a success We read of a young lady clerking in a P O who was discharged because she spent too much of her time in reading postal cards

As yet the authorities of Washington county have received no tidings of John Tuttle, who killed Geo Benson near Hillsboro last September Tuttle is supposed to be wandering somewhere in the mountains

Portland is not the happy possessor of all the hoodlums East Portland boasts of her share, Pelting inoffensive Chinamen and smashing in windows are among the latest symptoms of the hoodlum epidemic

Halpruner & Schwendall's Dancing Academy is becoming one of the most popular places of recreation and amusement in the city Instruction for gents, Thursday night For ladies and children, Saturday at 2 P M

A young lady was heard to declare that there could be no other stronger incentive to indulge in mental profanity than dragging a long skirt over the heads of protruding nails along a Portland sidewalk We heartily concur

Just so; we thought it would come to this Some of the New York papers are loudly demanding that ladies who attend theaters and the opera should not wear such lofty bonnets They say that the bonnets come too high—just what the poor husbands all think We often hear such complaints in these latitudes —Portland ladies excepted of course

PAUSE WHILE YOU READ THIS The season for parties and balls has arrived and the cold dreary days and nights of winter will soon visit us Every young man old man and boy for that matter likes to present a neat appearance when attending parties the theater, or walking about the streets. They likewise desire to be well provided against the cold blasts of snow and rain What contributes more to the personal appearance and comfort of a gentleman or boy than a nice closely fitting suit of clothes set off with a heavy warm overcoat Why will any one be so foolish as to go without either when BECK & WALDMAN have everything in that line Beck & Waldman in laying in their immense fall and winter stock of Clothing have exercised great care and selected with reference to the demands of trade They have purchased their goods low and are determined not to be undersold Let the public note this fact

FASHIONABLE OUTFITS —Attention is again called to the extraordinary opportunities which are just now being afforded by the extensive clothing house of JOS KOHN opposite National Bank There is no place in the State where a larger or finer assortment both for gentlemen boys and children will be found At all times the prices have been the lowest known to the market, but at the present time it will be found that they have been greatly reduced Mr Kohn keeps constantly on hand a large and superior stock of furnishing goods and underwear

The great French [illegible] made special [illegible] of irony and sarcasm in all his writings but JOHN O NEILL & CO make specialties of selling the finest clothing and year [illegible] hats at unparalleled low prices For a winter suit there are [illegible] yourself dressed and [illegible] at rest [illegible] is nothing of sarcasm but stubborn fact as everybody will find out who goes there [illegible] cannot go about in that way and must have clothing at the [illegible] by this firm [illegible] wanted for the season

[illegible] the World ever came into such universal use or has so fully won the confidence of mankind, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for the [illegible] of Coughs, Colds and Consump[illegible]

RIVER AND COAST IMPROVEMENTS

The dredger is still at work at Postoffice Bar Work cannot be prosecuted much longer the present s[illegible] as the stage of water will not permit There will soon be no necessity for deepening the channel until next year as the river is constantly [illegible]

About ten days ago the snag puller was towed down to the mouth of the Wallamet to remove a number of old snags and logs which were discovered to be lodged along the bed of the river at that point where the dredger was opening a new cut It was thought at first that a week's work would be sufficient to remove these dangerous obstructions but since operations began it is found that the work of removing these obstacles is one of far greater magnitude than was supposed Three weeks will probably be required to perform the necessary labor

Work on the new lighthouse at Point Adams has so far progressed towards completion that the building will be all finished within three week from date Mr Wheeler is now down at the mouth of the river inspecting the work as far as it has progressed Before the building is completed or by that time the lantern lenses etc, are expected to arrive These articles were shipped from New York a short time since They will be sent by rail to San Francisco and from thence to the mouth of the river by steamer When all the illuminating apparatus arrives it will require only two or three weeks at furthest to place it in the tower Should no detention occur it is hoped that the first light will be displayed about the 1st of January

Since work at the Hog's Back has been completed some alterations have been made to the buoys which have heretofore marked the old channel Capt Randall completed some time since a hydrographic survey of that portion of the river and the dredger opened a new channel which is less tortuous than the old At the upper and lower end of the new cut the buoys have been suffered to remain undisturbed in their old positions However the buoys which served to indicate the windings of the old channel have been removed To mark the new, a number of day beacons have been placed along at convenient intervals These 'day beacons' as the name implies can be very readily seen during the day and enable the pilots to steer clear of the sand on either hand

Pursuant to instructions received General Michler has made a personal reconnoissance of three rivers named in Washington Territory the Columbia between the Dalles and Cascades the Upper Wallamet and Yamhill rivers There yet remains but one more river to examine and that is the Snake between Shoshone Falls and Lewiston—a distance of nearly 500 miles It was Gen Michler's intention to have started some time ago, but he has been detained by business of an important character Snow has commenced to descend on the mountains and the winter season is so near at hand that it is probable he will be compelled to defer the reconnoissance for some time to come—possibly until early next spring After winter fairly sets in it will be difficult to cross the mountains covered with snow while the tortuous Snake as it crawls its way through the rocky canyons will be filled with floating ice which will prevent a careful examination of the channel

Several men are at present engaged in constructing a day beacon on the upper end of Sand Island at the mouth of the Columbia This beacon is constructed in a substantial manner and as it is situated above the reach of high water will remain where it is placed for years to come It is being constructed in the following manner First a crib about 5 or 6 feet square, made of hewed logs securely framed together, and is firmly imbedded in the sand From the center of the crib rises a spar about 60 feet in height, which is strongly attached at the lower end so that it cannot be prostrated by a violent wind or storm On the top of the spar is placed a small globe made of hoop iron Such a beacon can be seen for some distance and will enable pilots both in entering the river or departing from its mouth, to direct their course properly

The new fog signal at Point Adams is all completed and ready to sound. Some delay will unavoidably occur as a sufficient quantity of water has not yet been collected from the rain shed The law requires that when the signal begins to sound there must be no cessation Should an insufficient quantity be collected when the signal commences to give its warning notes the supply would soon be exhausted and operations suspend It is expected that the signal will commence in a few weeks

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER —Last evening the great sensational play of the Red Pocket Book was presented at this place of amusement to a large and delighted audience. Mr Sawtelle personated the dual characters of "Francis Clay the young Southerner and convicted felon He sustained the role fully up to the author's conception and succeeded admirably in bringing into prominence the lights and shades of the character Mrs Phelps as "Florence," succeeded beyond the most sanguine expectations of that lady's friends Very efficient support was accorded the two leading characters by the entire company Red Pocket Book has a very exciting plot and is one of the most sensational plays which has ever been presented to this public No one should fail to witness the drama as rendered by the present company Red Pocket Book will be repeated this evening when we hope to see a jammed house

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY OFFERED

For the relief of the afflicted

The Surgeons of the NATIONAL SURGICAL INSTITUTE will visit the Pacific Coast on the 14th day of November and remain until the 15th day of December 1874—one month—at their old building No 319 Bush street between Kearny and Montgomery San Francisco

This is a chance for help which every sufferer should take advantage of The hundreds of patients treated by them during their former visits, are all rapidly being benefitted or cured They treat successfully all cases of [illegible] No hopeless cases are undertaken and it really does seem as if no case [illegible]

They are preparing all the machinery necessary for the [illegible] All who commence treatment during this visit and the many hundreds now under treatment will have the advantage of all the [illegible] with this time remain to continue the treatment [illegible]

WEAK LUNGS AND [illegible] the sudden changes of temperature [illegible] during our winters [illegible] of less prevalent Coughs and Colds [illegible] remember [illegible] fatal complaints and frequently the cause [illegible] them should be promptly taken in hand on the first symptoms by resorting at once to Dr Jayne's Expectorant [illegible] well tried remedy [illegible] to remove your [illegible] and to exert a healing and strengthening [illegible] the Pulmonary and Bronchial organs

MOVEMENT OF THE REPUBLICAN LEADERS TO RECOVER LOST GROUND —Chicago, Nov 16 —A Times' Wash[illegible] says there are a dozen Republican Senators and members in Washington whose presence just now is given significance to by the constant caucussing which is going on between them and officials The subject of the caucus is the late political revolution, and the best means to retrieve the lost ground Thus far but little has been said by the President to inspire these gentlemen with much confidence for the future. To day however it is positively stated by those who have been to the White House that the policy of purification in the party which was commenced among the Texas office-holders just before the election is to be continued throughout the South and in the North The Collector of the port of Charleston, South Carolina a notorious politician named Worthington is to be it is said the next victim The assurances are vague that brother in law Casey and Marshal Packard are to be displaced in Louisiana but Republican members say there must be no exceptions

The President is so displeased with the conduct of Senator Conkling, and the New York Custom House crowd for their support of the Democratic candidate for Congress in Conkling's own district and for the seeming indifference which they showed the Republican State ticket that he is disposed to remove Collector Arthur and Naval Officer Laflin of the New York Custom House but this is regarded as almost too startling to be true Ex Governor Morgan is however mentioned by New York Republican Congressmen as likely to be Collector

Congressman Price, of Boston and other Republicans in Massachusetts send word here that Butler's Collector (Simmons) must be removed or Gaston will be elected as the Democratic Governor every year until a change is made in the Head of the Boston Custom House

RUMORS OF CABINET CHANGES —Washington Nov 16 —There are rumors afloat of Cabinet changes one to the effect that all the members have tendered their resignations to the President Then again this is denied and the names of two members in particular are mentioned

A Triumph of Chemistry

Among the numerous health giving discoveries of pharmaceutical chemistry none has achieved a more transcendent and lasting success than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters Of course there is a reason for this. It would have been impossible to palm off for nearly a quarter of a century upon so shrewd a people as the Americans a meritless article or have established by mere advertising such a reputation as the Bitters enjoy if they did not possess a substantial title to public confidence The truth of this statement is proved by the fact that bogus nostrums no matter how extensively puffed usually enjoy but a transient existence, are then discovered to be worthless, and discarded Hostetter's Bitters on the contrary after a career of twenty years were never so popular as they are to day. Soon after their appearance it became manifest that they possessed in a remarkable degree the power of toning and regulating the human system and to day they rank as the standard restorative of the age

MURDERED BY A DRUNKEN HUSBAND

S F Bulletin Nov 9

The Sabbath quietude in the suburbs of South San Francisco was disturbed yesterday by a crime of an atrocious character committed in the broad glare of day, and before the eyes of all who happened to be abroad in the vicinity at the time Edward Maguire a shoemaker lately employed in the shop of Edward McKay at 136 Fourth street, deliberately murdered his wife by shooting her down with a double barreled shot gun About a year ago, the unfortunate woman was compelled to leave her husband in consequence of his dissipated habits and failure to provide for his family. She found refuge, with her little girl, a child about twelve years of age at the house of Charles Rosenbaum a cooper employed at the Bay View Distillery, where she was employed as a housekeeper and in nursing another woman who was ill She remained unmolested for some [illegible] Lately Maguire had endeavored to procure a reconciliation persuading his wife to return to him and promising to amend his ways The poor woman had learned however from long experience that his promises were not to be relied upon. Failing in his persuasions to induce his wife to return he visited her a few days since and drew a large knife threatening to kill her then. Rosenbaum was at home at the time and after a desperate struggle he disarmed Maguire and put him out of the house The brutal husband went off and nothing more was heard of him until the occurrence of the tragedy yesterday. Early in the forenoon he called upon his employer and borrowed a double-barreled shot gun, stating that he was going out duck-shooting McKay cautioned him about getting drunk to which he made some [illegible] bottle of whisky [illegible] to do him for the day The next that was heard of him was at 9 and 10 o'clock, when he was seen on board one of the Potrero cars with his shot gun, on the way to South San Francisco, and soon after he [illegible] the house where his wife resided and entered without warning The doomed woman was busy at household duties at the time, and when she saw her husband close upon her with the weapon, she seized her little girl by the hand and ran out of the front door shrieking for assistance People who heard her cries were in time to see Maguire in close pursuit, snapping the gun several times before the fatal shot was finally delivered. The gun was loaded with fine shot and the whole charge struck the poor woman in the left hip severing the femoral artery; and after running a few feet further she fell and died almost immediately from loss of blood The little girl, who was also running and had hold of her mother's hand at the [illegible] unhurt and reached the house of a neighbor Maguire then walked quietly away with his gun in his hand until Andrew [illegible], one of the proprietors of the distillery, who was driving by the locality at the time jumped out of [illegible] and arrested him He offered no [illegible] but quietly permitted himself to be disarmed, placed in the buggy and driven to Fourth street where he was delivered to officer Gaynor, who conveyed him to the City Prison. Officers Jones and Coffey were sent out to investigate the affair and take charge of the effects of deceased the body being conveyed to the M[illegible] her trunk were a receipt for a burial lot in the Calvary Cemetery (obtained four years ago on the occasion of the burial of a child) and the following letter [illegible] letter, which has no date, but is known to have been delivered to deceased by her husband a few weeks ago

DEAR MAG—The last time I seen you I intended to go to work on Market street but changed my mind, and remained in the same shop that I have been in for some time. The only fault I had was that he paid off on Monday The shop I am in is No 229 Third street, between Tehama and Clementina three doors from Tehama. Dear Mag, I request of you, for God's sake, to call and see me, and let us settle this trouble for on me depends it all You [illegible] the rest. As you can't read I will say no more, but come to me and I promise to you and before God, that you will find me for the balance of my life to you all that a man can be to a woman. I will also promise that while I live I will never again drink in a bar room Do dear Mag, come and if you are not able to be around, I will pay for you in the Sisters Hospital Do come and receive that love from me that none but your husband can give

The murderer [illegible] silent after being lodged in the City Prison, and refused to make any communication regarding the murder or the circumstances leading the act The bottle of whisky with which he set out in the morning was [illegible] partially consumed, when arrested, but the prisoner manifested no symptoms of intoxication On being brought before the Police Court, this morning, for examination, [illegible] counsel stated that he had only only just been retained in the case, and had not been permitted opportunity to inquire into the circumstances and as he was [illegible] other courts at the time he asked a continuance until Thursday, which application was granted Maguire appeared in the dock with a self satisfied air and manifested no signs of regret at his situation

GUIZOT'S DECLARATION OF FAITH

Guizot prefaced his will by a declaration of his faith, which [illegible] follows I die in the bosom of the Reformed Christian Church of France, in which I was born, and in which I congratulate myself on having been born In remaining always connected with her I exercised the liberty of conscience which she allowed her members in their relations with God, and which she [illegible] If invoked in establishing herself I examined, I doubted, I believed that the strength of the human mind was [illegible] to solve the problems presented by the universe and man, and that the strength of the human will was sufficient to regulate man's life according to its law and its moral end After having long lived, acted [illegible] remain [illegible] are neither of them sufficient to explain and regulate them [illegible] naturally by the mere force of fixed laws which preside over them and of the humans wills which are brought into play. It is my profound belief that God, who created the universe and man governs and preserves or modifies them, whether by those general laws which we call natural laws, whether by special acts which we call supernatural emanating like the general laws, from his perfect and free wisdom and from his infinite power, which he has enabled us to recognize in their effects and forbids us from being acquainted with in their essence and design I thus returned [illegible] in which I was cradled, always firmly attached to the reason and liberty which I have received from God and which are my honor as well as my right on the earth, but again feeling myself a child in God's [illegible] and sincerely resigned to so large a share of ignorance and weakness I believe in God and adore him without attempting to comprehend him I see him present and acting, not only in the permanent government of the universe and in the innermost life of men's souls, but in the history of human society, especially in the Old and New Testaments—monuments of the Divine revelation and action by the mediation and sacrifice of our Lord Jesus Christ for the salvation of the human race I bow before the mysteries of the Bible and the Gospel and I hold aloof from scientific discussion and solutions by which men have attempted to explain them I trust that God permits me to call myself a Christian and I am convinced that in the light which I am about to enter we shall fully discern the purely human origin and vanity of most of our dissensions here below on Divine things

STRANGE SCENE IN AN ENGLISH THEATER

An extraordinary incident says the London Echo of October 6th occurred last night in the theater at Manchester Sims Reeves was playing Captain Macheath, in the Beggars' Opera and the piece proceeded pretty smoothly down to the end of the third act. At this point, when the associates of Capt Macheath should rush on the stage and triumphantly announce his reprieve, the supers were not forthcoming Reeves advanced to the footlights and attributing the hitch to Henry's mismanagement, said he was never so disgraced in his life He waited patiently until the supers one by one had come on the stage and then said to the audience, who cheered him loudly Ladies and gentlemen, you should call for the manager" This was done amid great uproar but Henry did not appear Reeves then said "We will not finish the opera, whereupon the audience dispersed in the greatest disorder, and freely expressed disapprobation of the management

Latest Liverpool advices quote the market for Pacific coast wheat ranged from [illegible] average and 10s 4d @10s 10d for club per cental The London market is quoted at [illegible] 6d per quarter for average quality just shipped and 42s per quarter for average nearly due at Queenstown

The local money market continues to lay [illegible] by any important developments as very great degree of strictness being observed by lenders who are not disposed to meet outside parties with much favor, as regular customers are likely to absorb the surplus available funds in the market after the large disbursements made to move the grain crops, shall find their way back to their usual channels of trade

Very late advices from the East denote a dull money market continuing in all the large commercial cities and there is a plethora of loanable funds almost everywhere because in the present situation those who can furnish the necessary security or credit to borrow do not see much prospect of profit in the extension of present business arrangements or in new enterprises There has also undoubtedly been a vast increase of wealth in this country and particularly in the West in the past few years and since the panic says the Tribune put an end to the employment of capital in railroad building, the decline in the rate of interest has come. All no new era of activity and confidence similar to that which prevailed two years ago can [illegible] that this decline in the rates of interest for money must to [illegible] be permanent Low rates of interest for money necessarily compels low rates of profit in trade. The struggle of capital to find employment causes competition in trade the merchants and traders who have the smallest capital are gradually crushed out by the larger ones, the different specialties of trade [illegible] in a few mammoth houses until, after they have monopolized and systematized the business their advantage for doing a large business at a smaller ratio of expense gives them such enormous profits that soon they cannot employ all their capital in the old trade, and are obliged to seek investments in land or improvements again This is the whole story of the struggle of capital for employment and its consequent concentration into fewer hands and is only another phase of the old story of "rich growing richer while the poor grow poorer." The present financial situation shows that we have reached the stage where the decline in the rate of interest is being felt and the numerous mercantile failures in New York and elsewhere show that the crushing out of the weaker firms is steadily progressing It is scarcely possible that anything can stop this process Having once got started it will steadily grind out to the bitter end As long as there are frequent failures there will be a lack of confidence and while there is a lack of confidence capital will not launch out into new enterprises, and while it does not the rates of interest will continue low and consequently the rates of profits in trade will be low It seems scarcely possible however that the turning point can be far distant. There is so much idle capital already that it must soon find employment in new directions that will stimulate industries again soon though not to the degree of activity prevalent two years ago

The volume of transactions in local business circles to-day shows an improvement on yesterday and present prospects indicate a very reasonable degree of activity during the current week

The Cork Wheat Market.

A [illegible] from Cork to a gentleman in the grain business in this city gives the following in reference to that market The letter is some four days later than the news by our last exchanges The writer says

Markets here are a shade lower with good business passing Wheat fully 1s per quarter down Values may be quoted Marianople, 44s 9d New [illegible] 44s 9d fine Nicolaieff and Odessa Ghirkas, 42s 6d per 492 pounds Spring American 40s 6d@41s; red winter 45s 6d Canadian, white 47s 9d per 480 pounds. Quotations of the Russian are for the new crop which is arriving in beautiful condition A cargo of Milwaukee, 7 000 quarters by steamer arrived at Cork short of lay days has been sold at 39s 9d per 480 pounds

A large number of steamers have arrived from the Black Sea and been sold for various ports in the United Kingdom, but no sooner have they been disposed of than others have arrived There are still 25 steamers of wheat on passage from the Black Sea, and the numbers going there for freights are increasing Without a rally in prices to the present it is almost impossible that any rise can take place while supplies continue coming forward so heavily An advance may reasonably be expected some time but the Greeks cannot have their own way now, having to compete with America. The approach of the Channel [illegible] precludes the probability of any important change before the second month of 187[illegible]

The flour market very lifeless to the present seems recovering a little Quotations—Firsts 5s 6d shirkas, 43s per 480 pounds, secondary very dull

Wheat Shipments—The Bark One.

In this department of trade there is a fair degree of activity prevalent, more especially in the grain and flour markets, but these commodities are without special change in prices. The receipts are heavy and exporters inform us that offers are still large, and since the opening of the river to navigation, more wheat could be purchased at current rates that would supply the present demand The vessels here are now we believe, all under engagement [illegible], perhaps, the [illegible] There may also be one or two at Astoria which have not been [illegible] thus far 4 vessels laden with [illegible] for foreign ports have left Portland and one [illegible] laden at Astoria making in all 25 [illegible] in the corresponding period in 1873 and 5 for the same time in 1872 show the [illegible] progress in our shipments. Last year [illegible] began much earlier the first vessel [illegible] while this season the first [illegible] 16th The [illegible] number it already [illegible] will probably get off before the month closes Some of those included in the above have not yet gone to sea but are at some point below completing their [illegible]

The bark One which is now about loaded is lying at the dock ready to drop down the river but some matters concerning a portion of her cargo remain unsettled which may detain her awhile It will be remembered that she is one of the vessels whose charter was cancelled by the recent failure of Morgan's Sons At the time of the failure she was being loaded by the Grangers and had on board about 1,0[illegible] tons when the news of the failure was telegraphed here from San Francisco Of course she got no more grain under that arrangement and soon after her charter was formally cancelled The Committee on the part of the Grangers interested in the wheat on board, and the [illegible] failed to come to any definite agreement concerning the grain and under these circumstances the vessel was rechartered to parties who at once proceeded to load her and, as we understand, now have about 400 tons loaded on top of the Grangers' wheat with no determined rights in the same as is claimed by those who placed it on board The Grangers of California, having wheat in ships there under precisely similar circumstances began suits in replevin against the masters of the vessels and we are informed that to-day news was received in this city that a decision had been given by the courts in that State favorable to plaintiffs in the suits but have no indubitable evidence that such is true What the result will be cannot now be stated but we [illegible] that matters now look as if the courts of Oregon would have to settle the matter

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Ajax from San Francisco arrived about 7 o'clock this evening

The ship City Camp has been chartered and begin to load in a day or two

The ship James Wisbart is being loaded at the Gas Co's wharf by the Salem Milling Company

The British bark Clan McLeod came up the river this morning and is anchored in the stream awaiting room at the dock She is under charter to a San Francisco firm

The bark Zelica, 116 days from Rio under charter to load grain at this port for Europe is at Astoria

The large ship reported off the bar last Sunday came in this morning and is lying at Astoria

The bark One with her full cargo less about 100 tons is lying at Central docks and her Captain is preparing to go down the river to-morrow morning, but her departure at that time is uncertain

The bark Edward James is discharging cargo at the Yamhill street wharf

The bark [illegible], the charter of which was cancelled by the failure of Morgan's Sons has been rechartered by the Salem Flouring Mills on terms reserved and will be loaded with wheat and flour for the United Kingdom

The Mattie Macleay is discharging cargo at Pacific wharf

The report that the ship Middlesex, now at Astoria would go to Baker's Island for a cargo of guano was probably premature

The bark Barrington is reported aground near St Helens having got out of the channel

The bark [illegible] another of the grain fleet is reported coming up the river and will probably arrive to-night

Ayer's Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY RELIEF OF

Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons,

℞ Has been widely used during the last twenty-five years, in the treatment of these distressing diseases and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible. The shakes or chills once broken by it do not return, until the disease is contracted again This has made it an accepted remedy and trusted specific for the Fever and Ague of the West and the Chills and Fever of the South

Ayer's Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system and leaves the patient as well as before the attack. It thoroughly expels the disease so that no Liver Complaints, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dysentery or Debility follow the cure. Indeed where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison it removes the cause of them and they disappear. Not only is it an effectual cure but if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria it will expel the poison and protect them from attack. Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease. The General Debility which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm has no speedier remedy.

MURDERED BY A DRUNKEN HUSBAND

[S F Bulletin Nov 9.]

The Sabbath quietude in the suburbs of South San Francisco was disturbed yesterday by a crime of an atrocious character committed in the broad glare of day, and before the eyes of all who happened to be on the road in the vicinity at the time. Edward Maguire, a shoemaker lately employed in the shop of Edward McKay at 630 Fourth street, deliberately murdered his wife by shooting her down with a double barreled shot gun. About a year ago, the unfortunate woman was compelled to leave her husband in consequence of his dissipated habits and failure to provide for his family. She found refuge, with her little girl, a child about twelve years of age, at the house of Charles Rosenbaum, a cooper employed at the Bay View Distillery, where she was employed as a housekeeper and in nursing another woman who was ill. She remained unmolested for some months. Lately Maguire had endeavored to procure a reconciliation, persuading his wife to return to him and promising to amend his ways. The poor woman had learned however from long experience that his promises were not to be relied upon. Failing in his persuasions to induce his wife to return he visited her a few days since and drew a large knife threatening to kill her then. Rosenbaum was at home at the time and after a desperate struggle he disarmed Maguire and put him out of the house. The brutal husband went off and nothing more was heard of him until the occurrence of the tragedy yesterday. Early in the forenoon he called upon his employer and borrowed a double barreled shot-gun stating that he was going out duck shooting. McKay cautioned him about getting drunk, to which he made some reply and exhibited a bottle of whisky he had provided to do him for the day. The next that was heard of him was between 9 and 10 o'clock, when he was seen on board one of the Potrero cars with his shot gun on the way to South San Francisco, and soon after he made his appearance at the house where his wife resided, and entered without warning. The doomed woman was busy at household duties at the time, and when she saw her husband close upon her with the weapon, she seized her little girl by the hand and ran out of the front door, shrieking for assistance. People who heard her cries were in time to see Maguire in close pursuit, snapping the gun several times before the fatal shot was finally delivered. The gun was loaded with fine shot and the whole charge struck the poor woman in the left hip, severing the femoral artery; and after running a few feet further she fell and died almost immediately from loss of blood. The little girl, who was also running and had hold of her mother's hand at the time, ran on and reached the house of a neighbor. Maguire then walked quietly away, with his gun in his hand, until Andrew Bouldeback, one of the proprietors of the distillery, who was driving by the locality at the time, jumped out of his buggy and arrested him. He offered no resistance but quietly permitted himself to be disarmed, placed in the buggy and driven to Fourth street, where he was delivered to officer Gaynor, who conveyed him to the City Prison. Officers Jones and Coffey were sent out to investigate the affair and take charge of the effects of deceased, the body being conveyed to [illegible]. Among her effects, in her trunk, were a receipt for a burial lot in the Calvary Cemetery (obtained four years ago on the occasion of the burial of a child) and the following letter, written on a leaf torn from an account book. The letter bore no date, but is known to have been delivered to deceased by her husband a few weeks ago:

DEAR MAG—The last time I seen you I intended to go to work on Market street but changed my mind, and remained in the same shop that I have been in for some time. The only fault I had was that he paid off on Monday. The shop I am in is No. 229 Third street, between Tehama and Clementina, three doors from Tehama. Dear Mag I request of you, for God's sake, to call and see me, and let us settle this trouble, for on me depends it all. You know the rest. As you can't read I will say no more; but come to me and I promise to you, and before God, that you will find me for the balance of my life to you all that a man can be to a woman. I will also promise that while I live I will never again drink in a bar room. Do, dear Mag, come and if you are not able to be around, I will pay for you in the Sisters Hospital. Do come and receive that love from me that none but your husband can give.

EDWARD MAGUIRE

The murderer kept silent after being lodged in the City Prison, and refused to make any communication regarding the murder or the circumstances attending the act. The bottle of whisky with which he set out in the morning was found on his person partially consumed; when arrested, but the prisoner manifested no symptoms of intoxication. On being brought before the Police Court, this morning, for examination, the prisoner's counsel stated that he had only only just been retained in the case, and had not been permitted opportunity to inquire into the circumstances and as he had some [illegible] at other courts at the time he asked a continuance until Thursday, which application was granted. Maguire appeared in the dock with a self satisfied air, and manifested no signs of regret at his situation.

GUIZOT'S DECLARATION OF FAITH

Guizot prefaces his will by a declaration of his faith, which reads as follows: I die in the bosom of the Reformed Christian Church of France, in which I was born and in which I congratulate myself on having been born. In remaining always connected with her I exercised the liberty of conscience which she allowed her members in their relations with God, and which she herself invoked in establishing herself. I examined, I doubted, I believed that the strength of the human mind was sufficient to solve the problems presented by the universe and man, and that the strength of the human will was sufficient to regulate man's life according to its law and its moral end. After having long lived, acted and reflected, I [illegible] that [illegible] are neither of them sufficient to explain and regulate them naturally by the mere force of fixed laws which preside over them and of the humans wills which are brought into play. It is my profound belief that God, who created the universe and man, governs and preserves or modifies them, whether by those general laws which we call natural laws, whether by special acts which we call supernatural emanating like the general laws, from his perfect and free wisdom and from his infinite power, which he has enabled us to recognize in their effects and forbids us from being acquainted with in their essence and design. I thus returned to the convictions in which I was cradled, always firmly attached to the person and liberty which I have received from God and which are my honor as well as my right on the earth, but again feeling myself a child in God's hands and sincerely resigned to so large a share of ignorance and weakness. I believe in God and adore him without attempting to comprehend him. I see him present and acting, not only in the permanent government of the universe and in the innermost life of man's souls, but in the history of human society, especially in the Old and New Testaments—monuments of the Divine revelation and action by the mediation and sacrifice of our Lord Jesus Christ for the salvation of the human race. I bow before the mysteries of the Bible and the Gospel, and I hold aloof from scientific discussion and solutions by which men have attempted to explain them. I trust that God permits me to call myself a Christian, and I am convinced that in the light which I am about to enter we shall fully discern the purely human origin and vanity of most of our dissensions here below on Divine things.

STRANGE SCENE IN AN ENGLISH THEATER.—An extraordinary incident, says the London Echo of October 8th, occurred last night in the theater at Manchester. Sims Reeves was playing Captain Macheath in the Beggars Opera, and the piece proceeded pretty smoothly down to the end of the third act. At this point, when the associates of Capt. Macheath should rush on the stage and triumphantly announce his reprieve, the supers were not forthcoming. Reeves advanced to the footlights and attributing the hitch to Henry's mismanagement, said he was never so disgraced in his life. He waited patiently until the supers one by one had come on the stage and then said to the audience, who cheered him loudly: "Ladies and gentlemen, you should call for the manager." This was done, amid great uproar, but Henry did not appear. Reeves then said "We will not finish the opera," whereupon the audience dispersed in the greatest disorder and freely expressed disapprobation of the management.

The London market is quoted at [illegible] per quarter for average quality just shipped and [illegible] per quarter for average nearly due at Queenstown.

The local money market to day is without any important development, a very great degree of stringency being observed by lenders who are not disposed to meet outside parties with much favor, as regular customers are likely to absorb the surplus available funds in the market. [illegible] large disbursement made to move the grain crops, shall find their way back to the ordinary channels of trade.

Very late advices from the East denote a dull money market as continuing in all the large commercial cities and there [illegible] everywhere because in the present situation those who can [illegible] rity or credit to borrow do not see much prospect of profit in the extension of present business arrangements or in new enterprises. There has also undoubtedly been a vast increase of wealth in this country, and particularly in the West, in the past few years and since the panic, says the Inter Ocean, put an end to the employment of capital in railroad building the decline in the rates of interest [illegible] come. As no new era of activity and confidence similar to that which prevailed two years ago can [illegible] that the decline in the rates of interest for money must, to a great extent, be permanent. Low rates of interest for money necessarily compels low rates of profit in trade. The struggle of capital to find employment causes competition in trade; the merchants and traders who have the smallest capital are gradually crushed out by the larger ones, the different special lines of trade become [illegible] in a few mammoth houses until after they have monopolized and systemized the business, their advantage for doing a large business at a smaller ratio of expense gives them such enormous profits that soon they cannot employ their capital in the business, and are obliged to seek investments in land or improvements again. This is the whole story of the struggle of capital for employment and its consequent concentration into fewer hands, and is only another phase of the old story of "rich growing richer while the poor grow poorer." The present financial situation shows that we have reached the stage where the decline in the rate of interest is being felt and the numerous mercantile failures in New York and elsewhere show that the crushing out of the weaker firms is steadily progressing. It is scarcely possible that anything can stop this process. Having once got started it will steadily grind out to the bitter end. As long as there are frequent failures there will be a lack of confidence, and while there is a lack of confidence capital will not launch out into new enterprises, and while it does not the rates of interest will continue low and consequently the rates of profits in trade will be low. It seems scarcely possible, however that the turning point can be far distant. There is so much idle capital already that it must soon find employment in new directions that will stimulate industries again, soon though not to the degree of activity prevalent two years ago.

The volume of transactions in local business circles to-day shows an improvement on yesterday and present prospects indicate a very reasonable degree of activity during the current week.

The Cork Wheat Market.

A letter from Cork to a gentleman in the grain business in this city gives the following in reference to that market. The letter is some four days later than the news by our last exchanges. The writer says:

Markets here are a shade lower with good business passing. Wheat fully 1s per quarter down. Values may be quoted: Marianopolis 44s 9d, New Coast Taganrog, 44s 3d; fine Nicolaieff and Odessa Ghirkas, 44s 6d per 492 pounds. Spring American 40s 6d@41s; red winter 45s 6d, Canadian, white 48s 9d per 480 pounds. Quotations of the Russian are for the new crop, which is arriving in beautiful condition. A cargo of Milwaukee, 1,000 quarters by steamer arrived at Cork short of lay days has been sold at 40s 9d per 480 pounds.

A large number of steamers have arrived from the Black Sea and been sold for various ports in the United Kingdom, but no sooner have they been disposed of than others have come on. There are still 25 steamers of wheat on passage from the Black Sea, and the numbers going there for freights are increasing. Without a rally in prices to the present it is almost impossible that any rise can take place while supplies continue coming forward so heavily. An advance may reasonably be expected some time, but the Greeks cannot have their own way now, having to compete with America. The approach of the Christmas season precludes the probability of any important change before the second month of 1875.

The flour market very [illegible] to the present seems recovering a little. Quotations—Firsts 35s 6d, Ghirkas, 33s per 480 pounds; secondary, very dull.

Wheat Shipments—The Bark One.

In this department of trade there is a fair degree of activity prevalent, more especially in the grain and flour markets, but these commodities are without special change in prices. The receipts are heavy and exporters inform us that offers are still large and since the opening of the river to navigation, more wheat could be purchased at current rates that would supply the present demand. The vessels here are now, we believe, all under engagement except, perhaps, the [illegible] Sesame. There may also be one or two at Astoria which have not been [illegible] thus far [illegible] vessels have left for foreign ports have left Portland and one ship was loaded at Astoria making [illegible] in the corresponding period in 1873 and [illegible] for the same time in 1872, showing the comparative progress in our shipments. Last year the [illegible] began much earlier the first vessel [illegible] 10th, while this season the first, the [illegible] 16th. The [illegible] present number 11 already, [illegible] will probably get off before the month closes. Some of those included in the above have not yet gone to sea, but are at some point being completing their cargoes.

The bark One which is now about loaded is lying at the dock ready to drop down the river but some matters concerning a portion of her cargo remain unsettled, which may detain her awhile. It will be remembered that she is one of the vessels whose charter was cancelled by the recent failure of Morgan's Sons. At the time of the failure, she was being loaded by the Grangers and had on board about 150 tons when the news of the failure was telegraphed here from San Francisco. Of course she got no more grain under that arrangement and soon after her charter was formally cancelled. The Committee on the part of the Grangers interested in the wheat on board, and the vessel failed to come to any definite agreement concerning the grain and under these circumstances the vessel was rechartered to parties who at once proceeded to load her and, as we understand, now have about 400 tons loaded on top of the Grangers' wheat with no determined rights in the same as claimed by those who placed it on board. The Grangers of California, having wheat in ships there under precisely similar circumstances began suits in replevin against the masters of the vessels and we are informed that to-day news was received in this city that a decision had been given by the courts in that State favorable to plaintiffs in the suits, but have no indubitable evidence that such is true. What the result will be cannot now be stated but we are sorry that matters now look as if the courts of Oregon would have to settle the matter.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Ajax from San Francisco arrived about 7 o'clock this evening.

The ship City Camp has been chartered and will begin to load in a day or two.

The ship James Wishart is being loaded at the Gas Co's wharf by the Salem Milling Company.

The British bark Clan McLeod came up the river this morning and is anchored in the stream awaiting room at the dock. She is under charter to a San Francisco firm.

The bark Zelica, 116 days from Rio, under charter to load grain at this port for Europe, is at Astoria.

The large ship reported off the bar last Sunday came in this morning and is lying at Astoria.

The bark One with her full cargo less about 100 tons is lying at Central docks and her Captain is preparing to go down the river to-morrow morning but her departure at that time is uncertain.

The bark Edward James is discharging cargo at the Yamhill street wharf.

The bark Ilmari, the charter of which was cancelled by the failure of Morgan's Sons has been rechartered by the Salem Flouring Mills on terms reserved and will be loaded with wheat and flour for the United Kingdom.

The Mattie Macleay is discharging cargo at Pacific wharf.

The report that the ship Middlesex now at Astoria would go to Baker's Island for a cargo of guano was probably premature.

The bark Harrington is reported aground near St Helens, having got out of the channel.

The bark [illegible], another of the grain fleet, is reported coming up the river and will probably arrive to-night.

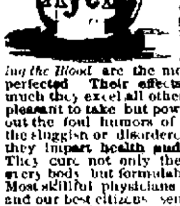
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,



CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed and of great benefit they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY RELIEF OF

Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons,

Has been widely used during the last twenty-five years in the treatment of these distressing diseases, and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible. The shakes, or chills once broken by it, do not return, until the disease is contracted again. This has made it an accepted remedy, and trusted specific for the Fever and Ague of the West and the Chills and Fever of the South.

Ayer's Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system and leaves the patient as well as before the attack. It thoroughly expels the disease so that no Liver Complaints, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dysentery or Debility follow the cure. Indeed where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison it removes the cause of them and they disappear. Not only is it an effectual cure but if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria it will expel the poison and protect them from attack. Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease. The General Debility which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm, has no speedier remedy.

For Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy.
